

Superior Court of California
COUNTY OF ALAMEDA

ALAMEDA COUNTY CIVIL GRAND JURY

The Civil Grand Jury is an arm of the court authorized to investigate local government for the purpose of ensuring that public agencies are working in the best interest of the public, and are doing so effectively and economically. Its independence gives the Grand Jury a unique role in securing local government accountability.

FUNCTIONS

Operating under the auspices of the Superior Court and subject to the court's general supervision, the Civil Grand Jury accomplishes its mission by investigating local government operations and citizen complaints.

The Grand Jury has broad authority to examine local government agencies operating within Alameda County. The Grand Jury may:

"Citizens' Watchdog"

- Determine whether public monies are being spent wisely and for appropriate purposes;
- Inquire into the conditions of jails, detention centers, and hospitals; and
- Inquire into charges that a public official or employee engaged in willful misconduct while in office.

At the end of its term, the Grand Jury issues a final report on results of its investigations. The public agencies that are the focus of the Grand Jury's investigations are legally required to respond to the Grand Jury's findings and recommendations within 60 to 90 days.

Citizen Complaints

Citizens alleging government waste or misconduct by government officials may submit confidential complaints to the Grand Jury. The Grand Jury investigates the complaints, and, if the situation warrants, recommends corrective action. It has jurisdiction to investigate any city or county agency or special district operating within Alameda County (e.g., BART, EBMUD, AC Transit, school districts, etc.).

Distinct from Criminal Grand Jury

The Civil Grand Jury does not normally hear criminal matters. In Alameda County, criminal grand jurors are selected from the regular Superior Court jury pool.

COMMITTEES

The Grand Jury accomplishes much of its work through the use of committees, which are formed to evaluate government operation areas such as:

- Education and Administration
 - Health and Social Services
 - Government
 - Law and Justice

The Superior Court finalizes a pool of at least 25 nominees (approximately five from each Alameda County Supervisorial District). The Presiding Judge can retain up to ten jurors from the previous year to serve a second term. The remaining jurors are then selected at random from the pool of prospective nominees for a total panel of 19 to serve as the Alameda County Civil Grand Jury. Soon after the selection process, impaneled Grand Jurors receive an orientation on city and county government and must complete and file a Statement of Economic Interests.
