Suggestions for Using Fines & Fees Summary Sheets

1. One of these sheets may be used to explain the fines and fees the court is imposing, once the sheet is marked up to eliminate irrelevant numbers. For example, if a defendant will be paying the standard fine for a misdemeanor and was cited and released, the PC 1463.07 assessment alternatives that are not being imposed ($25 and $0) should be stricken.
2. Where a summary sheet is used, the plea form should have an entry on the fines line that is consistent with the summary sheet, usually including the "total" number listed on the relevant sheet plus a 1463.07 assessment if applicable, and also noting "$150 stayed." For a standard DUI, the fines line would read: "$2,044 + $25, $150 stayed."
3. If the defendant is pleading to multiple counts or cases, the fines line may have additional entries. For example, the fines line for a defendant pleading to two counts of PC 415 might read, "$240 + $25 + $70 (Count 2), $150 stayed." For a defendant pleading to one count HS 11364 and one count HS 11377, it might read, "$727 + $25 + $270 (Count 2), $150 stayed." The fines line for a defendant pleading to an HS 11377 and a probation violation might read, "$727 + $25, $150 stay lifted," if the $150 Probation Revocation Restitution Fine was previously imposed but stayed.
4. If the accepted offer includes a discount on the fine for inability to pay, the entries below the sub-total line that are not being paid and the inapplicable 1463.07 assessments should all be lined out, and the applicable amounts entered on the fines line of the plea form. For example, the fines line on the plea form for an indigent DUI defendant unable to pay the full fine would read, "$1,823, $150 stayed."
5. Note that the summary sheet for drug crimes requires more extensive lining out, depending on the crime of conviction. For crimes listed in HS 11372.5 (including but not limited to Sections 11350, 11364, 11368, 11375, 11377, 11550), the Lab Fee must be paid, and the "Total" will be $727 (unless defendant is unable to pay fines and fees listed below "Sub-total"). For violations of HS 11550, no drug program fee, AIDS education fine, or associated penalty assessments are due, so these must all be stricken and the "Total" will be $290 (unless defendant is unable to pay the booking fee).
